

You are provided recorded audio suitable for developing a template-based digit recognition system. Four utterances of 10 digits sampled at 8 kHz from each of 4 male speakers are provided in the accompanying folder. Experiment with methods of your choice to build a digit recognizer that you can test on the given data or on utterances recorded by you!

Submit a report of your method, observations and results along with your code.